Video Project Overview

Purpose:

- create and provide a high-quality video resource library

- provide resources for professional development – inter-rater reliability work, teacher and principal development work, ccss learning, ddi learning, etc

- capture teacher, teacher evaluator, principal, principal evaluator in action around the three school level reforms: CCSS, TLE, DDI

- capture teachers enacting the ccss shifts and show how those shifts can be used to strengthen our work w/ our APPR observation rubrics

5 Video Library Projects

Highlights

- Teachers, principals and principal evaluators will work closely with video production company and coaches to deliver high quality products
- Videos will be showcased statewide (and even nationally!) to inform professional development
- Extensive and robust tagging system so that videos can be retrieved with ease
- “Subjects” will receive external coaching support if desired

How to Get Involved

- Educators from around the state are volunteering to participate
- If you are interested, send a 90-120 second clip of yourself or a colleague to video@mail.nysed.gov from your smartphone or computer for review and selection
- Sample video WILL NOT be displayed publically
- Media releases for students and teachers are forthcoming

Emailing Your Video

- Use your smart phone or computer video capture mode to film yourself or a colleague for 90-120 seconds – if a teaching video, ensure video shows students and teacher
- Find the video on your phone/computer and choose the option to EMAIL the video
- Send it to this address: to video@mail.nysed.gov
- Include in the body of the email:
 - Your name and position
 - Name of practitioner in video
 - School, District, Position, (Grade Level & Subject if applicable)
 - A brief 3-5 sentence description of the video – what is happening, who is the audience, etc.
